OAKLAND RAINFALL (Sanborn Gauge)

Last 24 hours.....	.71
Total for present season.....	6.40
Corresponding period last year.....	4.22

THE long-expected storm has arrived, relieving the cold situation. The mercury has risen perceptibly all over the coast and the prospects are for plenty of rain in the near future and for general prosperity among the ranchers.

The storm of today is general in Washington, Oregon and Northern California, and up to noon had gone considerably south of San Jose, and seems likely to reach Los Angeles. There is also a probability of some precipitation at San Diego but the rain will be lighter as the storm moves southward.

RAIN IS HEAVY.

The rain began to fall in the cities about the bay just before 5 a.m. and in the five hours up to 10 o'clock a half inch had fallen, which is considered a healthy downpour. So far the northern counties have had from 60 to 70 per cent of the normal rainfall and the situation is in every way good. In the south, however, there has been but 30 per cent of the normal and while the frost is now gone the situation there has been disastrous.

"We will triumph in the end, however," said Professor McAdie in speaking of the weather this morning. "We will win out—no we will see the day when we can command a situation such as we have had this year with a minimum loss. It has taken us seventeen years to get so far, but we never expected to be confronted with a situation of a temperature before 22. Now we know what to look for and we will be prepared for the fight."

SNOW IS GENERAL. Snow in general in the northern part of the state this morning and its fall on the mountains is a great boon, as the supply was short and the snow already there was hard packed and needed replenishing. So far, the outlook for the year is all right and the only dark side of the picture is the situation in the south.

For the next twenty-four hours Professor McAdie predicts that this section will have considerable rain, although there may be intervals without any downpour.

TEMPERATURES HIGHER.

Temperatures for California this morning were as follows, but the mercury is gradually going up in the south at noon: San Diego.....34) Bakersfield.....18 Los Angeles.....28) Porterville.....20 Pomona.....28) Lodi, Modesto, Stockton.....28 San Bernardino.....32) Fresno.....38 Riverside.....22) Sacramento.....38 Redlands.....24) San Francisco.....44 Pasadena.....28) Eureka.....40

The thermometer at the Chabot Observatory registered 40 degrees last evening. This morning at 11 o'clock the mercury went up to 42 degrees, which corresponds to the temperature at a similar hour yesterday.

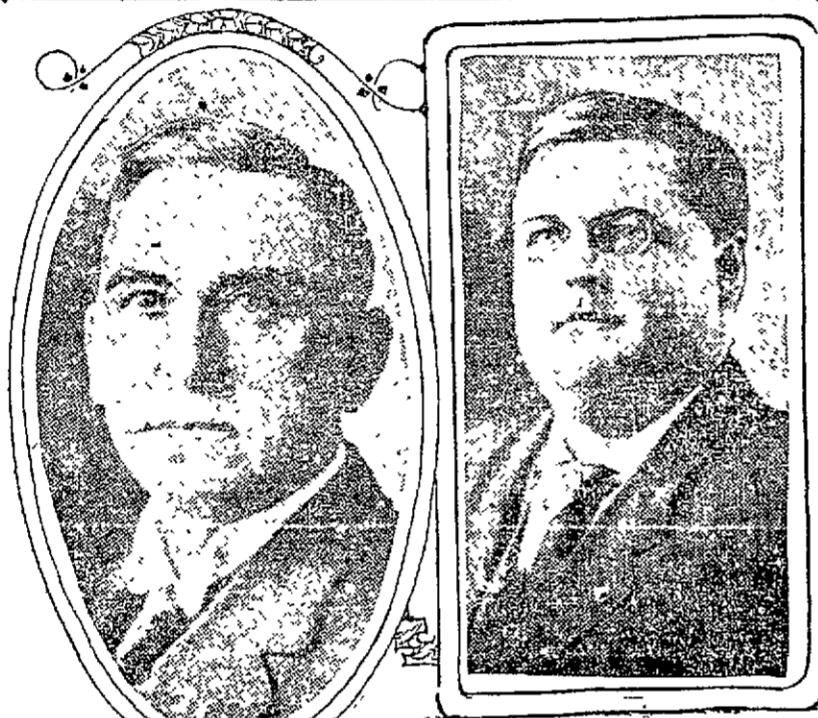

SACRAMENTO HAS SNOW. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—A snow storm, 1½ inches of which has not been registered in northern California, in fact, began last night and is still in progress throughout the mountainous region and even in the lower reaches of the Sacramento valley today.

Snow is falling in Sacramento this morning, a phenomenon so seldom witnessed as to render it a curiosity. The fall in this city, so far, has been light the snow melting as it fell.

Nine inches of snow had fallen at Redding up to noon today. Eighteen inches were reported at Yreka, two feet at Shasta, 6 inches at Tehama, 6 inches and one-half inches at Chico, where if the snow continues to fall there will be about 10 inches by Friday. Lane has been a member of the commission since 1906.

COMMITTEE BILLETS DUE

Speaker Young to Name Rules, Attaches and Contingent Expenses Boards

Appointments Confirmed by Senate; Little Work Is Done Today

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—Speaker Young forecasted Friday as the beginning of active legislative work in the Assembly today, and urged members to take advantage of the stenographers placed at their disposal this morning to get their bills into shape for consideration by the committees as soon as they got together.

The Assembly met today at 10 o'clock and after a 45-minute session, of which the adoption of the report of the mileage committee was the only business transacted, adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow, when Speaker Young probably will name the rules committee, the committee on attaches and that on contingent expenses.

Assemblyman Hayes of Santa Clara county will introduce a bill calling for $185,000 for three buildings at Agnew State Hospital and another asking $100,000 for a road from Sartoga to Redwood Park to be known as the Redwood Basin state highway.

Senate Convenes in Blinding Snowstorm

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—For the first time in any instance the legislature convened in the midst of a blinding snowstorm. In the Senate members talked of little else, before the body convened much anxiety being manifested as to the extent of the storm.

Senator George W. Cartwright of Fresno, who has been ill, made his first appearance. Senator J. B. Sanford of Ukiah, who is ill of ptomaine poisoning, was excused. A few appointments were confirmed.

APPROVE MILEAGES.

The mileages of Senators and attaches was approved. Senator LeRoy A. Wright of San Diego draws $14.40, and Senator P. C. Cohn of Folson, $4.40, at the rate of 10 cents per mile, with return mileage. The others drew amounts somewhere in between.

Senator J. B. Curtin (Dem.) offered a resolution recalling his yesterday's resolution on Democratic patronage from the committee to which it had been sent by the Republicans.

"I has the support of a majority of the Democrats," he said.

MAIDEN SPEECH.

Senator Grant (Dem.) of San Francisco made his maiden speech against Curtin's motion. Senator T. W. H. Shanahan (Dem.) of Redding declared that the $20 a day patronage allowed to the 10 minority members was not a fair use of the state's funds.

"When you gentlemen of the majority get where you can reach in and get a little patronage, and when Senator Curtin and others of the minority reach in for the rest of it I revert to my original proposition that the people of the state did not send us here for this," he said. "I'm ashamed of this whole affair."

Senator Boynton said that the proportion of stenographers assigned to the majority and the minority members would be the same and that no member need hire his own stenographer.

"I'll let the cat out of the bag," said Senator Curtin. "The whole quarrel is, who names these stenographers? Senator Grant wants to name his own stenographer; so does Senator Shanahan."

GRAB DOESN'T WORRY.

"The petty grab does not worry either of them," Senator Shanahan protested.

"Would not you be satisfied if you could name your stenographer?" asked Curtin.

"I've already hired one," said Shanahan.

Senator Lee Gates of Los Angeles declared the majority, bearing the responsibility, must enact the greater part of the legislation and must have the assistance with which to do it. He added that the Democrats were invited to a non-partisan caucus.

"Is that a fact?" asked Senator A. Cammelli of Jackson. "Was an invitation sent to the Democrats?"

"I'm not say as to that, but it was a matter of public knowledge and in the last place, I will say this, in effect, was made to go on there."

WOULD NOT HAVE GONE.

Senator Cammelli declared that he

MACHINE AND DRIVER RESPONSIBLE FOR ACCIDENT ARE CHASED BY ANOTHER CAR

MISS JENNIE C. BRODERSSEN, WHO WAS RUN DOWN AND HURT BY UNKNOWN AUTOISTS.

VICTIM HIT AT LATE HOUR

19-Year-Old Jennie Brodersen Run Down and Seriously Injured by Auto

Occupants of Car Escape After Leaving Victim at Receiving Hospital

AFTER having run down and seriously injured Miss Jennie Brodersen, a 19-year-old girl of 2004 Franklin street, and attempted to escape responsibility by fleeing, a party of unknown men and women automobileists were overtaken after an exciting chase along Broadway, near Twentieth street, at a late hour last evening by a second car, the driver of which is also unknown. The driver of the machine whose carelessness is said to have caused the young woman's injury, on being overtaken by his pursuer, returned to the vicinity of the corner, and in one of the automobiles Miss Brodersen, who lay moaning on the pavement, was taken to the Receiving hospital for treatment.

While the attendants at the hospital were administering to the patient two men who had assisted in carrying her in left, saying that they would return in half an hour and remove her to her home in the event that she was able to be moved.

None of them gave his name and on entering the auto in front of the hospital they backed out and drove away along Franklin street as far as Fifth instead of turning around in the street.

The move was evidently an effort to conceal the number on the rear of the car and the action was noticed by persons in the hospital, but too late. About a half hour later some one, presumably a member of the party, telephoned to the hospital to inquire as to the condition of the patient. The speaker refused to give his name to Steward Emley, and after being informed that Miss Brodersen was probably not fatally injured hung up the telephone.

TAKEN HOME.

Dr. A. C. Smith, Steward Emley, and Davidson, together with Miss McManus, the nurse, examined the victim and found that she had sustained a sprained right ankle, concussion of the brain and possible internal injuries. She was held for further observation and was removed by her mother, Mrs. Daisy Brodersen, to her home this morning.

Although she had recovered considerably, Miss Brodersen was unable to give a clear account of the accident. The papers had been placed in the hands of the police as the parents of the girl stated that they intended to put forth every effort to learn who was responsible for the accident.

HAD BEEN TO THEATER.

Miss Brodersen and a friend, Miss L. Ross, a telephone operator, had been to a theater and then to the home of Mr. John Brodersen, mother of the injured girl. They had then started to Miss Brodersen's lodgings at 2004 Franklin street, separating as the corner of Twentieth street and Broadway. Miss Ross says she had gone but a few yards on her way home when she heard the commotion caused by the accident, and hurried to the scene. She found Miss Brodersen lying in the street, moaning. The machine which had struck her was continuing on its course out Broadway.

After this car had been overtaken the injured girl was removed to her mother's home and was then accompanied by her parent and several of the automobileists to the hospital.

R. A. Winton, motorman on a Piedmont Avenue car, who was on the accident, relates that he did not hear the noise of the impact, but when he saw the machine coming toward him he turned his head to the right and saw the machine coming toward him at a speed of 10 miles an hour at the time. He was not able to get the number.

THREE OF THE ILL-FATED ROSECRANS' CREW SAVED

One Man Washed Ashore Six Miles From Scene of Disaster

ASTORIA, Ore., Jan. 8.—Of all of the ship's company of thirty-six who sailed from San Francisco in the ill-fated oil tanker Rosecrans only three survive the loss of the vessel yesterday on the rocks of Peacock Spit.

Fred Peters, a quartermaster, is the only man ashore. He was washed up on the beach yesterday, six miles from the wreck, more dead than alive. His name is the only thing rescuers were able to get from him before he relapsed into unconsciousness.

Two more survivors, names unknown, are aboard the lightship which rides far out beyond the Columbia river bar. They were taken from the rigging of the lost ship by the life saving crew from Point Adams, who dared death for many hours to make the rescue.

BODIES WASHED UP.

Bodies from the wreck, including that of Captain Johnson, who followed his ship to the end through her disastrous career, have been washed ashore at various points. Only that of the master has been identified.

EIGHT bodies have come ashore so far, according to reports to the cor-

Californian Signs Contract to Handle Baseball Club for Three Years.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Frank L. Chance signed a contract today to manage the New York American league baseball club for three years. He will take charge February 7. The terms of the contract were not announced.

It was learned, however, on excellent authority that Chance will receive an annual salary of $25,000 during the life of the contract, and will receive in addition 5 per cent of the club's net profits, which it was estimated would be $120,000 for his three years.

London, Jan. 8.—The Servian government decided today to withdraw from the Adriatic sea. This action is regarded in all quarters as a notable step in the direction of peace.

Harry Thaw Declines To Stay in New York

Old Haunts Fail to Attract Former Wraith of Great White Way.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Harry Thaw is credited with an emphatic "no" when asked last night if he preferred to spend the night in the city rather than to return to his quarters in the Metteawan insane hospital. Thaw was here to testify at the trial of the suit brought against his mother by John B. Clark and at noon in Thaw's trial for $80,000 damages. The rest of the day was given to the 10 Democrats.

The fireworks were discharged when Senator Curtin introduced a resolution calling for the appointment of four stenographers at $5 per diem each.

The Republican three-fourths is very "generous" with the Democratic one-fourth in the senate this session. Each of the Republican senators has agreed to "worry" along on $13 a day patronage for their stenographers, messenger boys and major domos. The rest of the $50 a day, after the 30 Republicans were cared for, was given to the 10 Democrats. As the suit was not concluded in court yesterday, Thaw's visit was a useless one, but before returning to Metteawan he was treated to a dinner in one of the prominent cafes of Forty-second street.

Although it was in wine dinners and revelry along the great white way that Thaw spent so much of his youth before the slaying of Stanford White, he met few who recognized him. There was much talking and sobering and when one of the men who had him in custody asked him if he would care to stay in Ned York at a fashionable hotel over night he replied firmly:

"I prefer to go back to Metteawan this evening. He went back.

EAGLES INSTALL YEAR'S OFFICERS

Oakland Aerie Has Many Plans for Coming Entertainments.

Past State President Dr. H. B. McPherson officiated as grand worthy president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles last evening, when the following officers of Oakland aerie No. 7, were installed for their ensuing term:

President, Morgan A. Fitzpatrick; worthy president, John W. Mott; vice-president, Frank Barnes; chaplain, Ed M. Stevens; secretary, Henry Kneekell; treasurer, Frank Galmarino; trustee guard, C. H. Hines; sergeant-at-arms, Frank L. Quarto; conductor, H. G. Yost; trustees, O. A. Smith, E. G. Buswell, Jr., and L. L. Foster; aerie physicians, Dr. Ernest M. Clark and Dr. C. T. Devine.

After the installation ceremonies were over, Past President, on behalf of the members of Oakland aerie, presented the retiring past president, Ed N. Hansen, with the official regalia of his rank, John W. Mott performed a similar function in presenting a sword to the incoming grand master, with a diamond-studded badge, which was accepted with appropriate remarks.

The new house committee consists of Steve McLaughlin, Jack Heron and Fred Mott, who will be running some novel stunts during their term. Chairman McLaughlin is soon to make a trip east, and during his absence he will study up a number of interesting features for the entertainment of the members. Among other things it is proposed to have regular Picnic nights at least once a month. A quartette, headed by Frank Fugone, will assist in the "blows," the first of which will probably be given early next month.

FIREMEN TO INDULGE IN PHYSICAL TRAINING

The system of physical training instituted in the police department on the recommendation of the civil service commission has been extended to the fire department, and classes are now being held for the firemen at the Oakland Y. M. C. A. It is planned to form clubs in the police and fire departments from which teams will be selected to engage in basketball, volleyball and indoor baseball tournaments. It is hoped that this will stimulate interest on the part of the members of the two departments in the physical training work.

SESSION AT END.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 8.—The extraordinary session of the West Virginia legislature came to an end yesterday. Nothing was accomplished at the session because of the failure of the senate to organize. The regular session began today.

BERKELEY RAINFALL.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 8.—According to the meteorological instruments at the University, 8 of an inch of rain fell in this city for the 24 hours ending at noon today. The observations were made by Dr. W. G. Reed, instructor in climatology. According to Dr. Reed, there is still a deficiency in the rainfall for this year, the total to date being about two inches under the normal.

SEASONABLE WEATHER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—"Seasonable weather again," was the announcement of the weather bureau here today for California north of the Tehachapi.

Rain was falling plentifully this morning from San Francisco northward, and it was predicted would reach central California this afternoon and southern California tomorrow. Prevailing winds were southerly and not unusually strong.

The fierce gale that raged along the northern coast yesterday had moderated today and was moving southward at a rate that would carry it into California today.

Precipitation to date for this section of the state was .55 inches or 60 per cent of the normal, but twice the precipitation last year at the corresponding date. In the upper San Joaquin valley the fall to date has been only 30 per cent of the normal.

TEMPERATURE HIGHER.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—With markedly higher temperatures prevailing, smudging was successful last night in saving oranges and lemons that had been only slightly nipped by the record cold of the previous two days. According to citrus experts fully half of the $50,000,000 crop may be found to be in marketable shape.

Many groves were reported uninjured in the vicinity of Rialto in San Bernardino and Fullerton, near Santa Ana, 25 miles southeast of Los Angeles, and near Escondido and Lemoore in the San Joaquin district.

The growers saw a ray of hope in the fact that a sudden thaw, which was feared last night, did not materialize. The weather bureau assured the citrus men that the return to normal conditions would be gradual.

WANT GRADUAL THAW.

"With the fruit thawing slowly, much of it can be saved," said W. S. Palmer, president of the Citrus County Citrus Association. "Therefore it cannot be said yet that the crop is lost."

Although the foliage of the trees in many districts were shriveled by the cold between Sunday night and yesterday afternoon, growers unite in the declaration that bearing trees were uninjured. Great havoc was wrought, however, in orchards where the trees were young and not yet come into bearing.

On the basis of a 50 per cent crop damage the railroads stand to lose $3,000,000 in reduced freight receipts, according to estimates today. If the loss to oranges and lemons reached $8 or $9 per cent, as some reports hold, railroad exchequer would suffer to the extent of $4,000,000.

Minimum temperatures reported by the weather bureau showed that it was uniformly 8 degrees warmer throughout the citrus district except in Bakersfield, where the thermometer registered 19, the coldest of the night. Temperatures were recorded officially as follows: Los Angeles, 36; Pasadena, 28; Pomona, 24; Riverside, 25; Redlands, 22; San Bernardino, 20; Santa Barbara, 33; and San Diego, 30.

HOTEL DESTROYED.

STEVE, R. C., Jan. 8.—A snow slide from International Mountain opposite the Bitter Creek townsite, destroyed the Fork's Hotel, two-story frame building last night, splitting the structure in two. Stables and other buildings were leveled to the ground as also was a store directly opposite the hotel. The two occupants escaped unharmed.

FARMERS GET WISH.

STOCKTON, Jan. 8.—Rain, long and suddenly delayed by the farmers of this vicinity began falling shortly before noon today. Within a few minutes the cold front turned the drops to hail, which fell steadily for an hour.

The indications are for a prolonged downpour which will be welcomed in all parts of the county, where feed is scant and where cattle have been suffering for a month past.

For half an hour, later in the day, snow fell steadily. The flakes were large and numerous and the flurry has no precedent in many years.

MERCURY RISES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Clouds and rain, a short time ago, and probably showers tomorrow, will increase the temperature and visibility, predicted this morning by the state weather bureau. The minimum temperature was 34 degrees, a rise of nearly 10 degrees.

TO DEFINE LIMITS OF LIGHTING MONOPOLY.

STOCKTON, Jan. 8.—Notice was received this morning from the State Railroad commission that on February 11 it would hear the application of the Electric Corporation for permission to enter Stockton and increase in the electric light business. The application will be heard in this city by Commissioner Edmonson and Thales. The corporation is regarded as important to all power companies now operating in the state, as it will define the limits of monopoly in a large city. The grantor of the application will be sternly resisted by the Western States Gas and Electric Company, a branch of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which is the largest utility company in the state of California in Stockton.

LAWMAKERS MARK TIME

WORK AT CAPITAL TO BEGIN FRIDAY

Speaker Young Probably Will Name His Committees Tomorrow.

would not have gone had he been asked, but he was not asked.

"You had trouble enough finding out who were Republicans and who Progressives," he said, "without bothering with the Democrats."

"It was not a caucus of Republicans nor of Progressives," replied Senator Gates. "It was non-partisan."

"The responsibility of the state does not rest upon the majority," said Senator W. E. Birdsall of Santa Rosa. "It is upon all of us, but if you want to throw our help away, go ahead and we'll give you a fight to a finish."

He cleared from Senator Grant that Grant had been asked to name a committee clerk and had done so.

Would Market State Bonds in Other Cities

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—An echo of the Congressional investigation of the alleged money trust found its way into the California Legislature yesterday.

Working on the theory that such a trust actually exists, and is in a position to squeeze States and municipalities, Senator Leslie R. Hewitt of Los Angeles has prepared and will offer a constitutional amendment providing that either the State or any city in it may go abroad to market its bonds.

This cannot now be done in California, and it was pointed out yesterday, not only are the State Highway bonds below par, but municipalities, in marketing their bonds, are liable to be at the mercy of groups of financiers, who, in some instances, can dictate the rate of interest and the price paid for the securities.

HAS NO DOUBTS.

"I have no doubt that a money trust exists," said Senator Hewitt tonight. "By going abroad, we open up a market where there is likely to be plenty of money at moderate rates. It is only necessary to provide that bonds may be paid in foreign money or marketed abroad."

Senator Hewitt also will offer legislation providing for long-term municipal bonds, in order that Los Angeles may chop through the big hill running south from Temple street. Under the present law, municipal bonds run ten years, and hence draw high interest. Long-term bonds with low interest are due.

Another measure will provide for trial term jurors in police courts and pay for the jurors at the rate of $2 per day.

Most of the legislation introduced before the end of January, it was learned yesterday, will have to go over until after the recess. The next four weeks will be used to crowd through measures to which there is no opposition, or, as was said yesterday by a leader, "which must be passed."

DEMOCRATS CAUCUS.

The Democratic members of the legislature held a caucus last night at which several important measures proposed by the Bourbon minority were discussed. Prior to the closed conference the Democrats were addressed by President C. C. Moore of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, who explained the exposition's stand on any move to introduce and-then-again legislation into this session of the legislature.

The sentiment of the Democrats was to secure an expression from their constituents with regard to withholding all such bills at this time, particularly with reference to the stand of labor in the matter.

President Moore will have several tests taken of the sentiment in districts specified by the Democrats and report to the Bourbon legislators later in the session.

A conference of exposition officials with San Francisco labor officials on the anti-alien matter will be held in San Francisco this afternoon, according to schedule.

Assemblyman George M. Beck of the thirty-fourth district, Alameda county, who is the only Democratic member of the Alameda delegation, promises to an early legislator during the present session.

The principal bill that will be introduced by Beck is that now being prepared by Deputy Distriet Attorney Clark of Alameda county, providing for the election of road overseers by popular vote, thereby taking this patronage out of the hands of members of the Alameda board of supervisors.

PLAN FOR OVERSEER.

It is planned in the bill to have a road overseer elected from each township, to receive a salary of $125 monthly. At the present time road overseers are paid at the rate of $3 daily and there is practically no provision as to the number of days they shall work regardless of the work to be done.

No road overseer will be allowed to place his own teams or equipment on county work and all work costing more than $200 will have to be awarded by contract.

In Supervisor Murphy's district, the first, in Alameda county—according to Assemblyman Beck, there are now 13 road overseers. Under the proposed bill, there would only be three elected by the people.

Beck, who is a grocer, declares he has been asked by his fellow merchants to introduce a bill for the protection of retailers against bad debtors and providing a means of forcing settlement by means of criminal prosecution.

Beck wants a law for the merchants similar to that protecting the innkeeper. He declares that the merchant is entitled to protection equally with the hotelkeeper, although he says, it is generally stated that such law would be unconstitutional.

Beck will also be asked by his constituents to introduce an insurance bill affecting fire insurance rates, but he has not yet learned its exact nature.

EIGHT ARE PRESENT.

Eight of the 12 members of the Alameda delegation answered the call of Governor Johnson late yesterday afternoon, to confer with officials of the Panama-Pacific Exposition over the quieting talk of impending anti-alien legislation in this session of the legislature, particularly anti-Japanese legislation.

The members of the delegation who met with the exposition men in the governor's office were Senators F. V. Shafter, E. J. Tamm, A. H. Reed, G. J. Haas, Assemblymen George Beck, F. W. Smith, W. C. Clark and Commissioner Reuben R. Hale.

JOINT RULE PLAN TO BE FOUGHT BY PROGRESSIVES

Fear Felt That Autonomy of Lower House Will Be Absorbed

did not care to accept the gratuities of the Republican three-fourths unless he could have some voice in the disbursement of the patronage.

A motion of Senator Boynton to re-fer the Curtis resolution to the committee on contingent expenses prevailed by a vote of 33 to 8.

RECALLABLE HISTORY.

This recalls the exciting times of early days when conditions at the state capitol were not what they are today. In 1902 the assembly patronage was $631,250 a week or $300 a day. In 1907 the assembly patronage was $561,250 a week, or $300 a day. The senate patronage was $639,325 a week, or $350 a day. In 1909 the assembly patronage was $706,50 a week, or $113 a day. The senate patronage was $600,250 a week, or $375 a day.

It was the free and easy expenditure of money in 1907 that finally caused the adoption of the present rules governing the amount of money apportioned for patronage, which placed the amount at $300 a day for each house.

According to Senator Hans of Alameda, the transbay delegates pledged themselves unequivocally against such bills and recommended that a united effort be made to keep the introduction of anti-alien bills out of both houses of the legislature.

SENATOR IS CHAIRMAN.

The general talk about the capital is that H. Stanley Benedict will be given the chairmanship of the judiciary committee, W. F. Chandler chairman of the ways and means committee, and G. W. Wyllie chairman of the committee on education. It is said Senator Young will undoubtedly hand out these jobs as simple matters of "rewards."

The three Progressive "politico-conservatism" Sutherland, Benedict and Bennett, who withdrew from the speakership fight in the interests of "harmony," must be taken care of. It is not expected, however, that the "rewards" will be announced before Thursday.

Sutherland is bound to get a big committee. He is regarded as a big man, having gained his reputation of the enactment of the public utilities bill. This bill will probably be revenue and taxation, the biggest question confronting the state administration.

Sutherland's alliance with Governor Johnson is well known, therefore, the job of straightening out the state's finances seems most likely to fall to him.

But political speculation may be upset as Sutherland is also mentioned for chairman of the committee on corporations. It is the belief that the San Joaquin assemblyman would have liked the judiciary chairmanship, but it is declared since Bennett's voting strength was greater in the Progressive cause than Sutherland's, when the former withdrew, that he would be given his choice—and that is said to be the judiciary.

YOUNG NOT SLIGHTEST.

Speaker Young has received suggestions from 73 members of the assembly since he was chosen to direct the house. Inasmuch as there are only 50 members and he completed the list, he has not been overlooked or slighted by any of his colleagues.

Young has asked the members to supply him with data covering the committees they would like to serve on and what chairmanships they would prefer. Seventy-nine sealed envelopes containing these suggestions are said to have been sent to the speaker.

The way has been opened in the assembly for part of the army of attaches to begin working, even before the house is organized. This came about on an order from Speaker Young giving the members power to send to Chief Clerk Mallory the names of the stenographers they wish to employ and giving the chief clerk power to name them, except, pending the distribution of patronage.

The order was issued because of the many complaints from members that their correspondence was being neglected and even the preparation of bills was being impeded and seriously affected.

The principal bill that will be introduced by Beck is that now being prepared by Deputy Distriet Attorney Clark of Alameda county, providing for the election of road overseers by popular vote, thereby taking this patronage out of the hands of members of the Alameda board of supervisors.

BIRDSALL PLANS FOR HETCH HETCHY ROAD

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—The construction of a bridge path from Lake Tahoe to the Yosemitc through Hetch-Hetchy valley so that tourists may enjoy the scenic splendor of the Sierras is the aim of a bill which will be introduced by Senator Birdsall of Placer.

Beck, who is a grocer, declares he has been asked by his fellow merchants to introduce a bill for the protection of retailers against bad debtors and providing a means of forcing settlement by means of criminal prosecution.

Beck wants a law for the merchants similar to that protecting the innkeeper. He declares that the merchant is entitled to protection equally with the hotelkeeper, although he says, it is generally stated that such law would be unconstitutional.

Beck will also be asked by his constituents to introduce an insurance bill affecting fire insurance rates, but he has not yet learned its exact nature.

Reorganization Bill Taken to Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—The bill for the re-organization of the State Board of Education devised by the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco was brought to Sacramento today by Prof. Thomas Harrison Reed of the University of California, formerly executive secretary to Governor Hiram W. Johnson. Some such bill is necessary because the free text book amendment to the state constitution recently adopted by the people had the effect of putting the then existing state board out of business.

The Commonwealth Club bill provides a board of seven members appointed by the governor and serving four-year terms.

FEAR GAME OF STATE WILL BE DESTROYED

President of Association for Conservation of Wild Life Objects real public, and of a fairer, richer California.

Wishing you a prosperous and happy new year. Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM F. BADE, President of the California Associated Societies for the Conservation of Wild Life.

Berkeley, January 7, 1913.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The following named compose the executive committee of the California Associated Societies for the conservation of wild life:

Dr. WILLIAM F. BADE, Berkeley, Sierra club; Joseph Grinnell, museum of vertebrate zoology; E. B. Coker, San Joaquin Game and Fish Commission club; W. Leon Dawson, Santa Barbara, State Audubon Society of California; Professor C. A. Koford, Berkely, Biological Society of the Pacific; Roy C. SAN JOAQUIN PLANS $1,000,000 FAIR HOME

STOCKTON, Jan. 8.—The supervisors of San Joaquin county have gone on record as favoring an appropriation of $1,000,000 with which to erect a California building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. A resolution to this effect was adopted and the clerk was instructed to notify Governor Johnson, the exposition management and the various members of the legislature.

Yesterdays are being worked out now.

CAPTIVE BREEDS.

It is also proposed to provide, under law, for the sale of game that is bred to captivity. The energies of the market hunter could be very profitably diverted into game. But after carefully canvassing the situation we have become convinced that nothing short of a no-sale law will prevent the speedy extinction of certain species of wild fowl. In fact, if hunting for the market is permitted a few years longer, there will be little hunting left for anyone.

You doubtless are aware that New York State recently prohibited the sale of all American killed wild game. But there the measure has come too late to be of much use; irreparable damage has already been done. In California the game is not yet hopeless. But it must immediately be stopped. We are proposing to do this by a no-sale measure. We are proposing to do this by a no-sale measure and prohibit gun clubs from "hunting" in the state. The details are being worked out now.

BRANDS IT ABSURD.

It is also proposed to provide, under law, for the sale of game that is bred to captivity. The energies of the market hunter could be very profitably diverted into game. The hotelman's argument on behalf of the "poor man" who is asked to pay from $2 to $3 for room and board is an absurdity on the face of it. A few hundred hotels are the only ones affected. The market hunter's well paid effort has been made to conserve game.

A careful effort has been made by our Associated Societies to gather facts about the game situation and they will be sent out in occasional news letters to the press. We hope THE TRIBUNE is not too far removed from the hotelman's switch position. Democratic view of the situation which is truly in the interest of the public.

Does It Pay to "Bother" With Small Savings?

John Nelson commenced work in a store, on a small salary, when 18 years old; he had been taught to save, and one of his first decisions was to deposit in a 4% Savings Account $3.00 each week. The account seemed to grow slowly, but he kept steadily at it until at the end of five years he had $1019 to his credit. About that time the proprietor died and his widow listed the business for sale. John called on her and arranged to buy the stock of goods and lease for $3,500, paying $1000 cash and the balance in five annual payments of $500 each. Today, at the age of 28, he is the proprietor of a prosperous, growing business, free of debt.

These cases are typical of thousands of young men. What you will be and what position you will occupy ten years from now depends almost entirely upon yourself.

A savings account will help you. Open one now and add to it every pay-day this year.

Sincere Statement From Reliable Citizen

Your window display in the store of Mr. E. J. Sweeney here, reminded me that my family owed a debt of gratitude to your wonderful preparation for kidney trouble.

A few years ago my wife suffered from a general breakdown in health. She was unable continually with headaches and suffered severely from nervousness and loss of appetite.

We tried several preparations and had the services of different physicians who prescribed for her, but she could not obtain any permanent relief from their treatment.

At the time, I was connected with the drug business and had heard so many people speak highly of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, that I resolved to try it.

My wife had only been taking it a short time when she felt much improved. We continued its use for some time until she felt entirely well and was a hundred per cent better in every way.

Since that time she has had no return of the trouble. We always keep Swamp-Root in the house and find it a wonderful tonic, as well as a great kidney medicine.

We want to thank you sincerely for the benefits derived from its use and shall never hesitate to recommend it to our friends. Yours very truly,

W. S. FRY,

'THE ROSEMAID' COMING TONIGHT

Macdonough to Offer Sister
Opera of "The Spring Maid."

With every minute of its two delightful acts as refreshing and colorful as a rose garden in June, "The Rose Maid," Werba and Luescher's most recent light opera success, comes to the Macdonough tonight for four days, including a matinee.

More elaborate than its musical sister, "The Spring Maid," in its scenic beauty and great equipment, "The Rose Maid" is said to retain all the daintiness and tunefulness of the former success, is considered to be the most brilliant series of any comic opera produced in recent years. At times it borders on the spectacular. This is especially true in the exterior of a picture window showing the exterior of a picture hotel in gay Ostend, Belgium's fashionable seashore resort. In this triumph of scene painting, massive settings represent several floors of a great hotel with the grand staircase flanked by elaborate marble pillars running up to broad and gay decorated verandas. In the rear can be discerned far-reaching corridors, rich in mirrored and frescoed lengths resembling famous "Piccadilly" and New York's fashionables.

In this scene all is life and beauty, dining at the open-air tables on the lawn before the hotel and dozens of beautiful women in various costumes and Parisian importations. This act blends with operatic novelties, besides the now famous "Kite Kiddies" and the striking "Starcase Waltz," which has been over Europe and America like an epidemic. The spectators are shown in "The Rose Maid" with cavalcades and horsewomen of all nations in whirling movement. This scene is a riot of color and action and forms a fitting climax to the extravagant page set by the preceding scenes of great success.

"The Rose Maid" will be presented here with all the equipment that caused it to be termed the opera of fun and fashion during its New York run, and with the great stars, including Pauline Paley, Bertie, Dorothy, Alice, Juliette Lange, Jeanette Borodard, Ida Van Tine, Edward Gallaher in the leading comedy part, Harry Lester, Mason, Henry Cootie, the noted tenor, Dr. Tyler Brooks, Leo Steiner and many others, besides the special "Rose Maid" orchestra and the "Rosebud Garden of Girls."

RAILROAD MEN GATHER TO CELEBRATE ROAD'S BEGINNING

RUSSIA SENDS MEN TO PROTECT JEWS

The Act of Despatching Ships
Shows Waning of Prejudice.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Two developments of the war in the Balkans that recently have become known to prominent Jews of Chicago are looked upon as furnishing gratifying proof that old prejudices and injustice aimed at Jews in other countries are dying out.

When various European nations sent warships to Constantinople a few weeks ago as a measure of protection for their citizens the Russian naval force was assigned to that part of Constantinople which contains the Jewish quarter. The reason for this was that the Greek church attended by Russians is in the same part of the city. Leading Jews of Constantinople, bearing in mind the many acts of injustice suffered by Jews in Russia, went to the Russian admiral to find out what he proposed to do if they should be attacked by the Moslem mobs. The admiral replied that he would give them full protection and that they need have no fear.

Now the authorities of Madrid have notified the chief rabbi of Salomon that if a request is made for such action by the Jews of that city Spain will consider them as Spanish subjects and will defend them as such.

"This information," said Adolf Kraus today, "affords further proof of that world moves. Spain and Russia are the countries that have treated the Jews worse than any others. Spain banished all its Jewish citizens four centuries ago. Now it is trying to get many Jews to take up their residence in the kingdom, particularly those descended from Spanish Jews who were sent away in the old days."

NOT A 'CURE-ALL'

Separate Remedies, Each Devised for the Treatment of a Particular Ailment.

There is no "cure-all" among the best remedies. There are different and separate medicines each devised for a certain human ailment or a class of ailments closely allied. For instance, Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are recommended for the positive relief of stomach irritation, indigestion, flatulence and dyspepsia. They are rich in Bismuth-Subnitrate, Pepsin and Carnabinates. They are prepared by special processes which perfect and enhance the great remedial value of these well-known medicinal agents. This remedy sells for 25 cents, 50 cents and $1 per package. Every one suffering from stomach disorder should try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, insomuch as they cost nothing if they do not satisfy.

Remember, The Owl Drug Co. stores in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle, Spokane are the only stores where these remedies may be obtained, and every one in need of medicine is urged to investigate and take advantage of the work and accurate manner in which they are sold.

Municipal Quarters Will Be Changed and Washington Street Opened.

The new city hall temporary headquarters for the municipal departments of Education and the offices in the old City Hall remained where they were until Commissioner of Public Works Harry A. Anderson this morning in council when a set of resolutions passed by the Down Town Improvement club was read.

The resolution asked that the work of tearing down the old structure be hastened as much as possible so that the end that Washington street might be extended to San Pablo avenue.

Commissioner W. J. Bacus announced that he would commence work on improving the street as soon as the old building was razed.

The resolutions filed with the council were as follows:

Oakland, Ca., Jan. 7, 1913. To the Municipal Board of Commissioners of the City of Oakland, Gentlemen: At a meeting of the Down Town Improvement club held January 6, 1913, the following preamble and resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas The property owners and business men on Washington street, furnished the funds for the extension of Washington street, largely with the understanding that additional street car tracks would be provided on that thoroughfare, therefore be it

GODOWSKY TO BE HEARD IN OAKLAND

The sale of tickets for the Godowsky concert which takes place at Ye Liberty pavilion on the corner of 14th and 15th streets on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Concerning this greatest of pianists, Walter Anthony, a San Francisco musical critic brought a wonderful concord to the following statement: "The artistry of Godowsky is a revelation in the possibilities of pianoforte, and if his recitals are not attended by many pupils it will be evident that he is not only a piano teacher, but also a director in their duty."

To miss a glimpse of Godowsky's immeasurable art is to forfeit an experience the loss of which cannot possibly be made up to you by any other man who plays upon the piano.

In Oakland Godowsky will give a program that is, if anything, on a higher plane than those selected for his transbay appearances, in fact, it is so attractive that means will be made to trip him from San Francisco to San Jose in advance of its excellence. Among the works included are Beethoven's "Appassionata" sonata; Schumann's "Carneval," and a group of Chopin's works including the B flat minor sonata.

COW COUNTIES' DELEGATION.

The population centers of the state—San Francisco, Alameda and Los Angeles counties—will not be allowed to "hog" all, say the solons from the rural districts. There will be a "cow counties" delegation, composed of northern and central California assemblymen, for the purpose of presenting a solid front against the delegations from the cities.

LIVES OF FOUR COLORADO CHILDREN SAVED BY DOGS

Collie Rescues 2 Young Shepherd Saves Children From Burning to Death

TRINIDAD, Colo., Jan. 8.—Eighty-four children saved the lives of two infant children of Nels Zurita late last night after a cat had knocked a lighted lamp from a table onto the bed in which the two babies were sleeping. The dog, which had been left on guard by Mrs. Zurita, who was taking her husband's lunch to him, pulled the blazing paper from the bed and dragged it another room. A parson in that house became alarmed at the fire and began screaming for help. Coupled with the vociferous barking of the dog, the noise brought neighbors to the scene. The fire was extinguished before Mrs. Zurita returned home.

CALHOUN'S HAND IN GREAT LAND DEAL

Street Railway Magnate Engineers $10,000,000 Land Transfer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—A realty deal, involving 90,000 acres, its subdivision and development and the transfer of about $10,000,000, has been successfully engineered by Patrick Calhoun of the United Railroads and a syndicate of Calhoun and Eastern railroads.

Land is in the gigantic transfers he is in the Sacramento valley and include miles of the richest acreage in the world.

According to information received last night, the syndicate of the Calhoun syndicate to cut the vast tracts up into estates, farming sites and sections for elaborate irrigation projects.

The vast tract which has now passed into the hands of the syndicate, formerly of the railroads, of the state, extends from Rio Vista for fifteen miles along the Sacramento river, crosses the Southern Pacific right of way to Elmera, extends close to Dixon and stretches across the neighborhood of Suisun on the southwest.

Included in the property are lands held by the old Meeker estate, the Glyde estate and other famous California holdings.

Who the California capitalists are that have associated themselves with the street railway magnate is not disclosed, though it is known that a big portion of Eastern capital was interested in swing the southwest.

M. J. White of Alameda, secretary of the California Society for the Protection of Cruelty to Children, sent a communication in the same tenor, being opposed to any change in the present law.

"Though the law is too drastic," said White, "with good judgment on the part of all officers concerned in enforcing it, satisfactory results are being obtained on the whole, especially in settling cases out of court."

Librarian C. S. Greene, it was announced, has made preparations to have copies of all bills introduced at the legislature sent at once to the Oakland library to be filed and accessible to the public.

A representative committee of social workers was appointed by motion to draw up a simple plan of organization for the club, which to date has been informal in character. The committee consists of the following: W. C. Barnard, Miss Alice Frazier Brown, Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain, George E. Dickie, Rev. H. A. Jump, Mrs. Frances E. Lemon, Miss Ethel Moore, Rev. A. W. Palmer, Christopher Russ, Miss Mabel Weal and Miss Bessie J. Wood.

According to one source of information, the resident representative of the big concern will be Paul Foster, who married Margaret Calhoun.

FUNERAL HELD AT CHURCH WHERE SON HAS PULPIT

With simple services at the Melrose Methodist church, of which her son is pastor, the remains of the late Mrs. Margaret Jane Burley were laid to rest this evening.

Mrs. Burley, mother of Rev. Robertson Burley, pastor of the Melrose Methodist church, passed away at the residence of the latter this week. The dead woman, who was 73 years old, was born in St. John, New Brunswick, and came to California via Panama in 1865. She lived in San Francisco for a number of years and was very prominent in the Howard-street Methodist church circles of that city.

She came to Oakland about twenty-one years ago and had been a resident of this city ever since. She is survived by two sons—William N. Burley of Portland and Rev. Robertson Burley of this city—and four grandchildren. She had been a widow for the past twenty-five years.

It is said there will be an opportunity for heirs of the dead, if any can be located, to collect damages. The company deposited a $200,000 cash bond before it went out of business.

SPECIAL DELIVERY BOYS ARE WANTED

Owing to the fact that the parcel post and other innovations at the local post office has increased the number of employees Postmaster Paul Schafer has found that he needs several special delivery boys.

The special delivery work in Oakland is done to a great extent by means of motorcycles, this being one of the few cities in the United States that has inaugurated this service.

It has been found that the difference in the number of boys made it possible to increase the pay enough to furnish the motorcycles, because of the increased facilities. The boys wanted must be over the age of 18 years.

ALIENS ROUTED BY FIRE; KNEEL TO PRAY IN SNOW

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—After being driven from St. Peter and Paul church by fire, 200 Russian, Servian and Bulgarian residents knelt in the snow outside the house of worship and prayed yesterday. The men and women crowded into the little church which had been decorated for the service. The decorations became ignited from burning candles. Police and firemen were unable to disperse the worshippers, who knelt in the snow and slush, while efforts were being made to extinguish the fire.

CURE WAS SIMPLE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Oscar Anderson, a bookkeeper, has been ordered removed to Fargo, N. D., for trial on a charge of using the mails to defraud for a concoction. Government chemists testified yesterday that Anderson's heart would so far, together with an interpretation of Maeterlinck's "Blue Bird," the most talked of drama of the week, were given to him by Dr. Wm. H. Mrs. Mary Austin, the novelist; F. R. Benson, the English actor and authority on pageantry; Professor Samuel A. Chapman, recently returned from France, where he studied the art of dancing; and Miss Alice Butler, member of the "Blue Bird" company, each telling in some interesting way the aims of the Drama League and showing how the Maeterlinck play, "The Blue Bird," realized its aim.

Professor Armes related the history of the formation of the Drama League of America, showing how it had grown from his organization at the University of Boston, Mass., to a society of 50,000 members in this country and England. Its aim is to create and foster a taste for good drama and organize audiences in support of it, so that actors, managers and producers will find it profitable to give what the league wants. The league is in no sense a censor of plays, for it does not condemn inferior plays, but it does advocate championing good play.

At the close of the meeting many in the audience added their names to the membership of the local branch.

PREDICTS NEW LIFE FOR U. S. FARMING

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Professor Aaron Avronsohn, director of the Jewish Agricultural Experiment station at Haifa, Palestine, discoverer of "white" wheat, which scientists predict will ultimately dominate the world's wheat market, explained his experiments with the plant before a scientific fraternity at the University of Chicago last night. He asserted that the discovery would revolutionize the cultivation of wheat in the United States.

The scientist said that many other varieties of great commercial value had been produced at the experiment station. Among these, a variety of the Salsify, which should be doubled. The lecturer recommended the importation of other plants from the Orient into America, affirming that millions of dollars could be gained in this way.

President Harry Pratt Judson expressed special delight with the dinner, quipping

Bring the Antioch's Passengers Into Town.

Within the next three or four months the tunnel of the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railroad will be completed and trains will be running between Oakland and Bay Point. Twelve months thereafter trains will be running into Sacramento and connections will be made at Dixon with the electric road now building on the west side, via Woodland and Willows, to Red Bluff. Thus a new connection by electric road will be established with the Northern Electric system radiating from the Capitol City on the eastern side of the Sacramento as well as the lines traversing the valley on the west side.

This is very gratifying, but not as gratifying as it should be. The passengers will be landed at Fortieth street—a mile from the business center. By an arrangement passengers bound for San Francisco will be carried over the Key Route's Fortieth street line direct to the Key Route ferry. Passengers bound for Oakland will be compelled to take a long street car ride to reach the business section of the city. This is not good for the business interests of Oakland and it will be very inconvenient for persons coming into this city over the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railroad. The passengers coming here by that line should be landed closer to Fourteenth and Broadway. They ought to be brought within two or three blocks of that point.

This can only be done by using the tracks of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Co. We will not venture to suggest the terms and conditions of such an arrangement, but merely suggest that some arrangement which will land passengers arriving over the Oakland, Antioch & Eastern line in the immediate vicinity of Fourteenth and Broadway would contribute greatly to the business prosperity of Oakland. It would be a great convenience to the traveling public and induce many travelers to stop here who would otherwise pass through, merely seeing the outskirts of the city on their way to San Francisco.

We want people from the interior to come to Oakland and stop in Oakland. Landing them on the outskirts where a train stands ready to take them to San Francisco will be no inducement for them to stop in Oakland. They should be brought nearer to the hotels and the shopping district. We think every business man in the city will agree with THE TRIBUNE on this point.

Something should be done to remedy the condition that will exist as soon as the Oakland, Antioch & Eastern Railroad begins running trains to Bay Point. Our people have been counting on this road to bring trade and travel into Oakland, but their expectations will hardly be realized unless the Antioch road can land its passengers nearer the business center than Fortieth street. The trade that will come in over that road will flow through Oakland unless steps are taken to halt and accommodate it in Oakland. Here is something for the Chamber of Commerce to work on—a chance to do something worth while for Oakland.

Mayor Rolph has agreeably disappointed a great number of his well-wishers by reappointing William H. Metson Park Commissioner. It was understood until quite recently that Mr. Metson would not be reappointed. If Mayor Rolph ever had any intention of superseding Mr. Metson, he changed his mind, fortunately for the parks and the best interests of the city.

Looking a Gift Horse in the Mouth.

The Sacramento Bee has been looking a gift horse in the mouth and finding fault with it. Our Sacramento contemporary objects to San Francisco taking the $750,000 which Andrew Carnegie has offered the city to defray the cost of erecting free library buildings. The Bee says the laird of Skibo wants the buildings erected as monuments to himself.

But the buildings are necessary for all that. The people of San Francisco would have to erect them at their own expense if Carnegie did not furnish the money. True, the city will have to stock the library and maintain it after the building is erected. But the same thing would have to be done in any event.

San Francisco needs a library building, but the city has so many enterprises on hand that the question of finance is a sore problem. Carnegie's offer will enable the city to erect a main library building and two branch buildings speedily without adding to the already heavy burdens of the taxpayers. Surely this is a good thing. San Francisco gets what she wants and badly needs, and if Carnegie has his pride gratified, honors are easy—both parties get what they want.

There is no analogy between the pyramids of Egypt and free public libraries. The pyramids are both mausoleums and monuments. Libraries may be regarded as memorials to those who erect them, but they are nevertheless useful and necessary to the living and future generations. They serve an educational and moral purpose, and are necessary parts of the civic equipment of every modern city. If a man donates the money required to erect one with the hope that it will give him a claim to remembrance, is he not entitled to remembrance? Vanity may be the motive, but the effect is salutary.

According to the Bee, Carnegie builds monuments to himself and leaves their maintenance and preservation to others. Only by straining at the facts can one arrive at any such conclusion. The same thing may with equal truth be said of the Hearst mining building or the Doe library at the State University. Both were erected frankly as memorials. They are devoted to noble and beneficent uses equally as well as if the people had been taxed to erect them. We would like to see the State University enriched by many more such memorials. They make us think better of those who gave the money to erect them.

Carnegie's munificence gave Oakland a fine library building years before she would have had one otherwise. Because he gave the money to erect the building, the people of the city subscribed the money to buy a site. Civic pride was stimulated by his gift. As a consequence the city was adorned and supplied with a needed utility. We do not regard the building as a monument to Andrew Carnegie, although we are grateful to him for it, but as a public convenience worthy of an enlightened people. THE TRIBUNE is glad that the citizens of Oakland did not look their gift horse in the mouth, for it is not a white elephant nor a receptacle for dead men's bones.

Many cities are supplied with free public libraries because Andrew Carnegie offered the money for buildings on condition that the cities furnish sites and agree to provide books and for the maintenance of free reading rooms. He argued that people should do something for themselves, and he was right. He gave an impulse to local public spirit that is to be commended. He may be seeking posthumous fame, but he is rendering a service to mankind. Buildings are as necessary as books, and the gift of a building furnishes the motive for supplying books and establishing a free library. Our Sacramento contemporary believes in books, libraries and free reading rooms, therefore it is narrow and illogical in attacking the donor of a part of the equipment of a library.

THE NEW ORDER OF THINGS

Real Acting and the Moving Picture.

Thomas A. Edison has made a number of remarkable inventions which have gained him fame and fortune. He has also made a number of predictions, some of which have failed to come true. He has again essayed the role of prophet by predicting that real play acting will be obsoleted by a talking motion picture machine which he has invented. His prediction is obviously an advertising boost for his new device, and hence need not be taken too seriously.

But Edison's talking motion picture machine is yet to undergo the test of practical operation. It may not work so well as the inventor imagines. Let it work never so well, and it will not supersede the actual drama, presented by live people speaking in the natural voice and going through their parts with the spirit of actual life. The moving picture and the machine voice can never give the touch of realism the stage demands. The real drama will never be superseded by the canned article.

Moving pictures are both amusing and instructive, but after all is said and done, they are only pictures. They are not life. They can never be given the animating touch of real life. Co-ordinating the phonograph with them can never give them the semblance of reality. There is no illusion, and the illusion is the vital essential of the real drama. Edison's device will never be anything more than a mechanical reproduction of a play. It will doubtless amuse, but it can never take the place of real acting by real people.

A French wine manufacturer says the wine trade has been much improved by dancing and the cabarets. One will have to scratch his head a bit before he can see in this statement an endorsement for dancing and the cabaret.

The New York man who sent a bulldog by parcels post has a queer idea of the mail service. But possibly he wanted to show how the parcels post could be abused.

When a motor car runs down a pedestrian and the chauffeur speeds away to escape identification, it is prima facie an admission that the driver of the car is at fault. The law should make it so, and it should impose a severe penalty on all chauffeurs who run away after running people down. It is a common thing for motorists to leave the victims of their carelessness or recklessness lying bleeding and uncared for while they speed off to evade responsibility. The law should make the mere act of running away a severely punishable offense. In no other way can the public be protected from the criminal carelessness of reckless or drunken chauffeurs. Every day the newspapers tell of persons being knocked down and killed or injured by motorists who flee away to evade recognition and responsibility.

TRAVELING UNIVERSITY

Out in Minnesota they have a traveling university, which has gained the popular nickname of "President Vincent's Educational Circus," because the project originated with President George E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota, and it was at first planned to hold most of the sessions in tents. Last June the inhabitants of eighteen small towns in that state enjoyed the benefits of what is now known as "university week." A representative portion of the university—faculty, students and equipment—went "on tour" and exhibited to the townpeople its most characteristic activities. The eighteen communities were so well pleased with "the show" that they unanimously have asked that the tour be repeated this year, and it is the purpose of the university to grant the request.

What "university week" really may be seen from a typical program. Each day of the six is devoted to some special topic, with lectures and demonstrations during the daytime and high class entertainments at night. Thus Monday is business men's day. There are lectures on all kinds of topics interesting to business men from marketing problems to living "first" lives, as well as a few talks of more general nature. In the evening there is a dramatic recital of a modern play.

Tuesday is farmers' day, and like other days of the week, literature day, with lectures on libraries, children's books, women's clubs, civic betterment, the drama, and similar subjects. There is a reading hour in the afternoon, in charge of a trained elocutionist, and an industrial art exhibit; in the evening an illustrated lecture, "Art in Common Things."

Wednesday is home welfare day. In the day sessions such problems as "The Human Beings of High School Age," "Why Babies Die," rational living, kinship, students and equipment—went "on tour" and exhibited to the townpeople its most characteristic activities. The eighteen communities were so well pleased with "the show" that they unanimously have asked that the tour be repeated this year, and it is the purpose of the university to grant the request.

That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion foul gases bad breath yellow skin, mental fears everything that's horrible and nauseating. A Cigaret's tablet will give your constipated system a thorough cleaning and strengthen you out by morning. Then work while you sleep.

A 10 cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cigaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little bodies need a good, gentle cleansing too.

VICTIMS TELL OF ESCAPE FROM PERIL

Survivors of Ill-fated Boats Tell of Being Marooned on Island.

SAN DIEGO Jan 8.—Rescued by the United States cruiser Denver from a barren island southwest of San Diego Dan S Kuykendall and Gus T Jones immigration inspectors told of then escape from death in the storm which wrecked three boats Saturday and took the lives of at least four men. It was Elmer Gerolani the engineer of the ill fated Elizabeth which carried the immigration officers to the island instead of Bash who died. Reports by wireless from the Denver stated at first that the engineer of the boat had been rescued. The Denver arrived last night from the islands where they landed on the island to search for smugglers of Chinese and when they returned to the landing place the storm was on. The last news says of Gerolani he had been saved and a life preserver and headed the boat straight out to sea. The men were on the island two days and nights without food and with very little water.

FEARS LOSS OF HORSES; OBTAINS INJUNCTION

Declaring that State Veterinarian Charles Keane had condemned eleven horses being used in a construction camp in North Berkeley as the alleged ground that they were affected with glanders and that he "threatened by force of men to take away the animals and slaughter them" W J Schmidt of the Schmidt Construction Company obtained a temporary injunction yesterday restraining the official from carrying out his purpose. Schmidt denies that there is glanders among his stock.

ONLY ONE WAY TO STOMACH HEALTH

Eat Three Meals a Day and Let Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Digest Them; the Stomach Soon Recovers After This Brief Rest.

The very worst thing you can do is to starve yourself to overcome stomach misery. Make your meals just as comprehensive as possible. Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets freely for a while and we will see a sudden recovery. The individual farming and gardening of the present day forces such quick results that our dietary is nothing in the quantity of flesh-forming elements of former days. Thus we get a surplus of starch, meats are often spoiled of much of their nutritive quality as the soil is depleted of the amount of minerals it needs to grow well. We cannot obtain the natural ripened fruits and vegetables hence the stomach requires assistance to digest an over abundance of fibrous materials and take care of fruit acids that cannot be neutralized.

So we need more fiber than the system can supply, more protein than the system can supply, more preservative properties which ripened vegetation should give us. That is why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is made up of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and is the only way to have stomach health under modern conditions.

Try just one box and you will never want to be without this wonderful medicine.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain an inert agent, one grain of which will digest 3000 grains of food. They are so entirely harmless because they have absolutely no effect on the stomach. Every drug store sells and recommends Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The price is 50 cents per box.

LEAPS TO DEATH FROM BUILDING

J. P. Donovan Asks for Loan of $14 Before Plunging Nine Stories.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 8.—John Patrick Donovan in the days before the disaster of 1906 one of the best-known photographers of the city, jumped from the ninth floor of the Pacific building last evening and was instantly killed. The mangled body of Donovan, a man of 62 years of age, was picked up from the floor of the light well in the building by Traffic Policeman Jaeger and Christensen.

Donovan, who had been staying at the Fresno hotel, told Proprietor Wiltz of that hostelry that he had a big deal on yesterday afternoon he asked Wiltz to lend him $14. The money was given to Donovan and he left the hotel, saying he was going to his office, an attorney, T. J. Lyons in the Pacific building to return some pictures that the lawyer had requested of him through Frank B. Long, a law clerk.

On arriving at the Pacific building Donovan gave to Miss Minnie Daniels, Lyons' stenographer, the photographs in the De Laveaga suit of two years ago and walked toward the elevator. He paused at the elevator door a moment and then walked to the corridor window nine floors above the inner court floor, and jumped to his death. Clifford Eofford and James Anderson elevator boys, said that they saw Donovan raise the window in the corridor and jump.

The coroner's deputies found that Donovan had in his possession more than $66 in cash and a bank book showing a credit of $1100. This fact, together with the man's queer actions in asking Wiltz for money he did not need, is taken as an indication that his mind was unbalanced.

RIDDERDALE'S most important event in society circles is the wedding of Miss Cara Mills and Francis Mercer Davis, which will be solemnized in St. Leo's church in Piedmont tonight. Soft tones of rose and green will blend to enhance the flowerlike young faces which will make up the wedding party and the bridesmaids' gowns of rose color will vie with the blossoms.

Miss Mills will be gowned with rarely beautiful simplicity in a handsome imported French brocade of white, slightly draped and enriched with delicate real lace. It will have a court train, hanging from the shoulders and caught up at intervals with clusters of rose blossoms, the bride's flowers from time immemorial. The dress will well be edged with real lace and will be held to the bride's dainty head with a wreath of the same fragrant flowers. Miss Mills will carry lilies of the valley and white hyacinths as her bridal bouquet, made up in the old fashioned way with a lace frill, which will fall over the hands.

Mrs. E. A. Davis, of San Francisco, Miss Mills' maid of honor, will wear an imported Paris model gown of pale pink chiffon over soft rich satin in darker shades of pink. The chiffon will form an overskirt and panniers in the quaint style newly come into favor. The bridesmaids, Miss Caryl and Miss Bancha George, cousins of the bride, will also be garbed in dainty little French gowns of chiffon in rose tones garnished with silver lace. They will wear large picture hats in the same colors and will carry bridesmaids' roses.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stoltz, Carmen Stoltz, who is to carry the roses which will make fragrant the path of the bride, will wear a frock of white chiffon over net. Mrs. Rupert Whitehead, Miss Mills' aunt, will be sumptuously gowned in American Beauty brocade with touches of gold.

The winsome young bride will be given away by her uncle, Rupert Whitehead, Rev. Father Bernard Vaughn, the noted prelate of London, will pronounce the ceremony which will plight the troth of these two well-liked young people. The ushers will be Scott Mills, Miss Henrietta, Walter Perkins and Robert Huntington. E. H. Jessup of New York will support the groom. Over three hundred guests have been bidden to witness the ceremony.

The wedding journey will take the young couple through the East and Canada for a trip of two or three months. Some time will be spent at Montreal, where Davis lived during his college days, and at Windsor, which is the home of his family. On their return they will make their home in the bay cities.

BUDS RETURN TO SCHOOL.

Miss Doris Haslett, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Haslett, returned last night to resume her studies at Miss Gamble's school. Miss Phyllis Capwell is another of Miss Gamble's girls who will return to this fashionable finishing school in a day or two.

MRS. KRUSI'S MUSICAL EVENING.

A delightful small musical will be that of Mrs. Herman Krusi Wednesday evening, to which she has invited thirty or forty friends. Miss Maud Stoum, whom I have frequently heard with pleasure on the east bay cities, will give a group of songs. Edwin Siegfried will be the accompanist. The affair will be given at Mrs. Krusi's hospitable home in Alameda.

DINNER FOR WHIST CLUB.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Ogden will be hosts at their Linda Vista home tonight to the members of a whist club which has met for several years. An elaborate dinner will precede the card playing. Red roses and carnations in shades of pink will deck the home. Among the members of the club who are all old and congenial friends, are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wight, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Manus, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leach Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. George Roeth, Mr. and Mrs. Dickie, Mrs. W. W. Montgomery, Mr. William Watson, Dr. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Tyson.

VIOLET LUNCHEON FOR BUDS.

Twelve of the sub-debutantes set were Miss Jeanette Maxfield's guests last Thursday at a daintily appointed violet luncheon. The maids who took off Miss Maxfield's hatfully included Miss Lynda Wight, Miss Freda Wright, Miss Linda Nobles, Miss Vidor Middleton, Miss Elsa Krueger, Miss Laura Van Bruen, Miss Anna Easton, Miss Doris Bonnerman, Miss Elizabeth Cook, Miss Alice Bacon and Miss Marion Bromley.

MISS HALL'S TEA FOR SMART SET.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

STUDY PARENTS, HER ADVICE TO LOVE LORN

Marriage Not a Lottery, But a Science, Declares Mrs. Marsh.

LONDON, Jun. 8.—Matrimony is to be no longer a lottery. The Bay State women are making it a science. A prominent woman devised a plan for a swain to make sure of his sweethearts by studying her parents. Another is demanding a commission to decide finally whether the young man is to buy the engagement ring and the girl her trousseau.

Mrs. Clara A. Marsh, treasurer of the Father and Mothers' Club of Boston, is discoverer of the parents plan and she says she will have it patented.

"It only stands to reason that the daughter should be a copy of the mother," declares Mrs. Marsh. "And even though the mother may be short and fat, while the daughter is tall and willowy, their general appearance is nine times out of ten alike."

"If the mother is that way at 45 the daughter, though perhaps trim at 20, will be likely to resemble her."

"Young men should bear those facts in mind," they say. "Look upon the face of the girl's father. If he has worried, unsettled look, pay accurate attention to the manner in which his wife greets him when he arrives home from his hard day's work. If the mother is always complaining and urging him to obtain more wealth in order that she may satisfy her extravagance, beware or her marriageable daughter."

Mrs. Ethel Ellinwood, social worker, is the proud creator of the commission plan. She says wise marriages will be prevented if the young couple file to the commission and answer these questions satisfactorily before they are allowed to hitch up:

- 1—How long have you known this young woman?
- 2—Where did you meet her?
- 3—Why do you think you love her?
- 4—How much money have you in the bank?
- 5—What is your business?
- 6—How much do you earn weekly?
- 7—Is your disposition good?

The girl must also testify as to her ability to cook.

Woman Braves Bandits

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Mrs. O. P. Elvall, widow of a missionary who died last fall of typhus fever at Kansu, on the border of Tibet, had a thrilling trip through a bandit-infested country with two children, Robert, 15, and Alice Elvall, 5 years old, with whom she arrived here yesterday on the liner China.

After the death of Elvall, his widow decided to return to the United States. She was in poor health and needed a rest and she wanted to put her son in school. It was 3000 miles as the crow flies from their station at Kansu to Honan, and they traveled muleback, which is slower and less direct.

It was winter, and at times the thermometer registered 30 below zero. They stopped at more than thirty tiny, primitive, drafty and dirty, and were in constant fear of molestation from the bands of soldiers returning from the Chinese revolution. For parts of the journey they had a small military escort, but most of the way their only attendants were two native servants.

After putting her son in school and resting a few months at her home in New York, Mrs. Elvall will return to Tibet to carry on her husband's work.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED.

Mrs. Ethel Robinson gave a dinner party in the Hotel Oakland last evening in honor of Miss Ella Moore, whose marriage to Vernon Andrus will take place Saturday evening in Berkeley, Calif.

Miss Moore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Robinson, is to be the maid of honor. The twelve dinner guests later joined the bride-elect at the Orpheum for the evening's entertainment.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Glover Moore of San Francisco, who formerly resided in Berkeley. About a hundred guests will be bidden to the church ceremony, which will be followed by a wedding supper at the Claremont Country Club.

GOODALLS TO TRAVEL IN PANAMA.

The Panama canal district will be the point of interest for a group of Oaklanders who will leave today for a tour in for the event. A number of matrons and maid of the smart set will aid Miss Hall in receiving her guests. Those on the list include Mrs. Samuel P. Hale, the winsome young hostess' mother; Mrs. James R. Kenna, Mrs. Anthony Campbell, Mrs. Channing Hall, Miss Alice Hall, Miss Letitia Kenney, Miss Anna Spring, Miss Katherine Crellin, Miss Elva Gibrardell, Miss Juliet Galpin, Miss Emmy Lemcke, Miss Helen High.

ARABIAN NIGHTS' BALL IS MENACE?

Minister Declares That Proposed Chicago Affair Will Be Orgy.

Issue of $400,000 for Highway, Tunnels and Wharf to Be Taken Locally.

RICHMOND, Jan. 8.—Arrangements have been made for a conference between City Attorney Lee D. Windrem, O. W. Jasper and Harbor Engineer P. A. Haviland the latter part of the week to take up the matter of the amount of the first issue of harbor and tunnel bonds which will be offered for sale soon. As soon as the engineers and city attorney decide upon the details and amount of the bonds to be offered at once, the necessary resolution will be prepared by the attorney and passed by the city council, probably at its next meeting, Monday night. It is the desire of the city to go to work with the development of the waterfront projects at the earliest possible date, in order that the tunnel, highway and outer harbor wharf may be completed as soon as possible.

Local capitalists have completed arrangements to buy the first issue of bonds offered, which will be in the neighborhood of $400,000. Among the leaders in this pool are J. H. Nicholl, B. H. Griffin, W. F. Bedding, Mrs. Boyd, and a number of others who have large financial sources.

"Holding on cheap ball which is supposed to relieve distressing conditions, but which in reality helps them along, is a farce. If the world today is to be redeemed from poverty and vice it will have to come about the same was it did when man first sought to save the world with his own blood."

SAVING OF MILLIONS BY UNITED STATES URGED

EFFICIENCY IN GOVERNMENT, AIM

RAISE BIG SUM TO FREE TWO PRISONERS

Building Trades Council Prepared to File Bonds Worth $240,000.

Tveitmoe and Clancy May Soon Be Released From Leavenworth.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Congress was asked to appropriate $250,000 for continuing the investigation by the commission on economy and efficiency into the executive departments of the government, in special message to day by President Taft.

The President points out that there is no greater service that can be rendered to the country than that of continuance of the work of the commission until some form of organization is provided for doing this kind of work continuously under the executive.

The President expresses the opinion that the procedure of every branch and office of the government should be submitted to the same painstaking examination as that given those which reports have been made. To do this, however, President Taft says that ample funds must be provided, and he asks that Congress make the $250,000 appropriation by March 4 for the incoming President.

WOULD SAVE MILLIONS.

"In my opinion," says the President, "this is not a matter which the Congress should assume that public money will be unwisely spent. Of a total cost of about $20,000 during the 21 months covered by the work of the commission, facts have been developed and recommendations have been made that if followed up will result in savings of millions of dollars each year."

This has been under a handicap of uncertainty of continuation which interfered with the making of plans which could not be completely executed within a few months. It would be very much to the advantage of the administration if the President were authorized to spend whatever amount may be deemed to be necessary within the next two years, the only condition attached being that he render an account of expenditures."

REPORTS ILLUSTRATE.

Referring to the fact that it has not been possible for the commission to make final detailed reports on more than a few of the hundred offices in Washington, the President says the reports submitted will serve to illustrate the character of results which may follow an extensive investigation of office technique and procedure.

"It is further to be noted," continues the President, "that the offices which have been reported on are those which have been frequently under scrutiny. From what is known of the offices outside of Washington, it is thought that in this field there are the largest opportunities for economy will be found."

"As illustrating the relative importance of service outside of Washington, it is of interest to note that the cost of clerk hire at the New York postoffice alone is more than that incurred in the departments of war, navy, state, justice and commerce and labor at Washington."

The report of the commission contains a description of 110 subjects the result of 21 months' work. The

'BUD' ANDERSON PATIENT; CONFIDENT HE HAS CLASS

Friday Night's Great Card May Develop Opponent for Vancouver Lightweight

Accompanied by Rawhide Kelly and Manager Dick Donald, Arthur J. (Bud) Anderson, the Vancouver lightweight, visited THE TRIBUNE's sporting department yesterday morning, showing off his ambitions to wear the lightweight crown. Before we get any farther along, that might be well to mention right now, that anytime Bud Anderson starts there will be a card of Medford sports come to town, and put the family silver on this boy's chances.

Right now, Dick Donald and Bud Anderson are two mighty disappointed men. They came down believing that they could get out ahead before the Welterweight class on the 15th of the month, with either Tommy Murphy or Frankie Burns. Burns is now out of it, at least temporarily, and Murphy is attending to some business in the east.

The other day, wrote Hoppe, Red Watson or possibly Lew Powell as immediate material available.

Coffroth may yet match the winner of Friday night's Powell-Watson bout with Bud Anderson, either way makes a good enough showing. Coffroth will meet with Donald and Anderson today and discuss the situation.

"All I want is a chance to meet any of them," said Bud. "The better they are, the quicker I will agree to meet them."

Bud Anderson was forced into the game of fistfights.

LEARNED SELF-DEFENSE.

A younger member of a family of seven boys and four girls, Bud early learned that the older boys were stronger than he, and his bigger brothers and certain unruly cousins were to excel them in skill. He always came out loser in the rough and tumble mix ups, so, after a series of beatings he scraped together enough money to buy a ticket of boxing gloves. He consorted with the gang about the livery stables until he acquired a modest proficiency and then advanced.

BUD NOT RING NAME.

Bud Anderson was born on April 8, 1888, on his parents' farm near Vancouver, Oregon. Bud does not a ring name, but was the prefix by which his older brothers and sisters designated him. Incidentally, and if you are a member of the black cat fraternity, it is far from incidentally, according to Mrs. Charles McRae, Willie Ritchie in this particular — whereas Ritchie is one of 10 children, Bud Anderson is one of 11.

Bud has had so many jobs in his life that he cannot remember them all. His first job was as a newspaper boy. This was when he was 14 years old, and just prior to entering high school at Vancouver. Then he worked at laundry work, his loyal horses keeping him around various stores and several years. He quit the stables to learn blacksmithing at one time, but after three months of the muscle-building labor split his foot with an ax, and when he recovered, turned back to the stables.

It was when working around the stables, or driving the stage between Vancouver and Washougal before the railroads commenced to carry the mails that Anderson began to exhibit his talents in the "ring" art. He would drive the stage the 18 miles to Washougal, and perhaps run five miles each way to vary the monotony of the trip, and then travel half a dozen of the stables in the area when he arrived home from his trip.

ANDERSON IS NOW HUSKY.

Anderson grew husky, and you could not hit him anything else after a look at him in ring recalls, working on a team wagon at Peninsula. He worked hard during the day and frequently ran back and forth to his work, just to keep good shape. He was working at that time, leading the boys in the Eagle's吸烟室, and other semi-public events, but never forgot for his bouts. He didn't have to.

ANDERSON IS NOW HUSKY.

Anderson grew husky, and you could not hit him anything else after a look at him in ring recalls, working on a team wagon at Peninsula. He worked hard during the day and frequently ran back and forth to his work, just to keep good shape. He was working at that time, leading the boys in the Eagle's吸烟室, and other semi-public events, but never forgot for his bouts. He didn't have to.

From then working around the stables, or driving the stage between Vancouver and Washougal before the railroads commenced to carry the mails that Anderson began to exhibit his talents in the "ring" art. He would drive the stage the 18 miles to Washougal, and perhaps run five miles each way to vary the monotony of the trip, and then travel half a dozen of the stables in the area when he arrived home from his trip.

OAKLAND MAY HAVE PACKY-BRITTON ENGAGEMENT

Dan Morgan, the Nemesis of Packy McFarland, is still hammering away at this fighter in the interest of Jack Britton, and according to the latest gossip, Britton may get a crack at him in a 10-round bout in Oakland before the Whisman's Club. At least, it is understood that Mel Morris has been elders would prefer a 10-round go as a sort of try-out.

Hardly a day goes by but what a letter from Morgan, slaving for a match with McFarland for his boy, is received. Here is the latest:

SPORTING EDITOR, TRIBUNE: "Packy McFarland is lost," was the news that the fight fans of the country received yesterday. We see what has happened to him in an appearance to box in Omaha. McFarland has been lost, as far as Jack Britton is concerned, for over a year.

Packy is still thinking about giving the public a run for their money by losing Jack Britton; that is all he does, thinks about it, and he goes right on matching up with fifth rate boxers, and not considering the fight fans in any way.

Jack Britton is meeting the best man that can be secured. Although only weighing 133 pounds ringside, he is boxing boys that weigh 140, whipping them at the rate of twice a week. The boxing experts who have been watching the work of both boxers for no particular reason concluded that Jack Britton is a fearless fighter, boxer, and willing at all times to meet the best boys in the world.

Packy McFarland has about worn out his welcome with the fight fans of the general for Packy is looking for the best of it all the time. When asked, "What is the answer?" he box Britton, the answer is "no, but I will meet little Battling Terry, Tommy Kilkane, or any other small 130-pound boys. That go at catching up with him, and will the sporting public stand for the above conditions, or Britton is ready at all times and Packy McFarland is afraid? Sincerely,

DAN MORGAN.

CITY LEAGUE AGREES TO ABANDON ITS SCHEDULE

Officials of the City League have decided to call off the balance of the schedule of the games arranged for the mid-winter series. Joe Solar's Rat-Nuts have been declared champions despite the abbreviated season.

It was agreed when it was felt that no suitable grounds were available for the playing of further games.

The City Leaguers are still sore at the Coast Leaguers, and are determined to put on summer baseball this year.

They agreed that when John and Cal Erving put an end to their schedule because they were playing too good ball and that the fans would tire of baseball by the time the regular league season opened if a stop was not put to the games once more.

It is the present plan of the City Leaguers to start the summer season about the first Sunday in March, and to continue for perhaps six months.

There will be two games each Sunday, the first meeting at noon and the second following immediately upon the conclusion of the first.

While the local league officials say that there is nothing in this move to indicate that they would be bucking the Coast League, the same thing is no doubt true. The Sunday attendance at the Recreation grounds would be affected.

VENICE WON'T SEEK TO RIVAL VERNON AS BOUT MECCA

VENICE, Jan. 8.—Abbot Kinney flat-est last evening that for the good of Venice, he had, for the third time, turned down the offer of a Los Angeles syndicate of sporting men and bankers to erect an arena for the conducting of pugilistic bouts on land in the canal district.

The identity of the men, who wanted a lease of Kinney land and the official sanction of the Doge, Kinney refused to reveal. He said, however, that their names if made public would bring a curse on people. He said that this syndicate had $100,000 to put into the project which was to make Venice the greatest sporting center in the country.

"I have permitted short bouts in the auditoriums, as mentioned, as often as they become cruel," said the founder of Venice, "but I do not think the better class of people here would countenance the erection of a pugilistic stadium which would attract such persons as attend the various shows. Venice will continue to be a mecca for clean sport and amusement, but a fight arena — no."

HOW LUTHER M'CARTY TOOK BAT NELSON'S BED

Down in Los Angeles they are telling a story of one Luther McCarty snatched a Bat Nelson's bed. He mailed a check for $50 to the latter this week, and this act marked the finale of one of the real hard luck stories of the season.

"When borrowed those fifty bones from Nelson," said McCarty, "Luther and I sat at the lowest chin. In fact, the tide may be said to have gone out and left us stranded. We had pretty nests taken the count."

"We had been hunting around Springfield, Mo., where I had horned into a fight club and was trying to get the cowboy started. We were literally down and out. We had stayed at the hotel on

SURGERY FAILED TO CURE CRIMINAL TENDENCIES

SPEED BURNERS GET LIMIT AT RICHMOND

RICHMOND, Jan. 8.—True to his promise that after the first of this year he would, as a New Year resolution, raise the customary fine which have been imposed on motorcycle speeders here in the past, Police Judge William Lindsey this morning assessed H. A. Dardage of Oakland $20, when he pleaded guilty to breaking the municipal speed regulations on his cycle. The fine has been $10 for such violations in the past, but of late motorcyclists have been frequent violators of the law and the judge decided that a heavier fine would be the best remedy to apply. Hereafter all speed burners will be given the full limit of the law.

Daughter of Famous STATESMAN IS MARRIED

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The marriage took place today of Max Green, chairman of the Irish prison board, and Miss Johanna Redmond, youngest daughter of John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist party.

S. P. LAYING CONCRETE BASE FOR ITS TRACKS

RICHMOND, Jan. 8.—Announcement was made this morning by City Engineer H. D. Chapman that the Southern Pacific Company, in answer to the demands of the city council, has agreed to lay a new and concrete foundation for its new intermediate station between Washington, Richmond avenues, and Pine Street on the west side of the city. The traffic over the line will be very heavy and a large type of car is to be used, wherefore it was thought that unless a concrete base for the rails was put down the jar of the trains would break the paving along the right of way.

Breaks Cold in a Day

And Cures Any Cough That Is Curable. Noted Doctor's Formula.

From your druggist get two ounces of Glycerine and half an ounce of Globus. Take these two ingredients home and pour them into a half pint of good whiskey. Take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bedtime. Smaller doses to children, according to age. This is the formula known to science. There are many cheaper preparations of large quantity, but it don't pay to experiment with a bad cold. Be sure to get only the genuine Globus. It is held in a sealed glass bottle with a screw-top cap. If your druggist does not have it in stock he will get it from his wholesale house. This has been purchased here exclusively for six years and consumers families know its value. Published by the Globe Pharmaceutical Laboratories of Chicago.

TELLS STORY OF STATE CHAMPAGNE

Italian-Swiss Colony Booklet Is Interesting From All Standpoints.

The Italian-Swiss colony has just issued a new booklet which tells the story of the production of its Golden State Extra Dry California Champagne, the "Grand Prix" wine which was put on the market on November 1 last. The booklet is handsomely illustrated, shows convincingly that most of the claims made by the importers about the "magic" soil and climate of France are duplicated at Asti, in Sonoma county, with the result that at the International Exposition at Turin, Italy, in October 1911, their Golden State Extra Dry Champagne was awarded the "Grand Prix" and out on the same level with the best brands made abroad.

In addition to explaining the various processes through which their champagne is put before it reaches the consumer, and giving valuable hints how to serve champagne to the best advantage, the Colony's booklet contains several pages of patriotic, grave gay and epigrammatic toasts that are suited for all occasions.

The illustrations are beautifully reproduced on coated paper and the embossed green and gold cover design, forming a champagne glass is an artistic conception that serves as an excellent curtain raiser for the contents of the booklet. The Colony's Golden State champagne during the brief two months it has been listed on the market has been listed in every important hotel, cafe restaurant and club on the Pacific Coast, and is quickly working its way East. In San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles, Portland and other cities it has appeared at many notable functions.

ATTACKS SON, AND CUTS OWN THROAT

Youth May Recover From His Wound; Trouble With Woman Cause.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—Samuel Brumfeld, an elderly laborer attempted yesterday to kill his son, Sheridan E. Brumfeld, 24 years old, by cutting his throat, and thinking he had been successful he severed his own jugular vein with the same razor with which he had attacked his son. The latter has a chance to recover. A police investigation brought out the fact that the father had quarreled with the boy's mother a few days ago and she had taken the part of his mother, who however had left her husband's apartment and had gone to live with another son in this city.

About 4 o'clock this morning the father arose from the bed which he occupied with Sheridan, procured a razor and slashed the youth's throat. He then cut his own.

RICHMOND NOTES

RICHMOND, Jan. 8.—Another step in the details in the creation of a municipal park system was taken yesterday evening at a meeting of the water committee. The calling of an election for selection of commissioners to proceed with the work and gathering of expense bills will be called by the county supervisors after each boundary line is voted on and the final construction of the system.

Chief of Police Arnold reports to the city council that on New Year's eve during the carnival celebration, not one arrest was made and no complaints were registered with the police department.

The Fraternal Brotherhood will hold a big installation ceremony followed by a banquet and social session. El Carrizo Camp Woodmen will install its new officers jointly with Maple Camp, Royal Neighbors with appropriate ceremonies. At the same time the Eagles will install their official "birds" at which members of Oakland Aerie will be present in a body.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs held their joint installation Monday night.

At their first meeting this year the members of the Richmond Woman Club, Tuesday afternoon, elected Mrs. George C. Currie, business affairs; Mrs. W. W. Finch, the domestic science section, announced that Dr. Blake, city health officer, would address the club next Monday.

Judge Huber of Stege asked the county supervisors for a raise of $100 in the amount of the tax on his township for $100 a month to $109, but the same was denied.

He will probably appear on the ground that his township has over 2500 population, and he is entitled to the raise under the law.

Funeral services for the late Mr. Martin Schlichtmann were held yesterday afternoon from the family residence near Rust.

The county supervisors by a unanimous vote revoked the liquor license of Mr. O'Reilly, keeper of the Panama-Pacific Cafe, on San Pablo Avenue between 20th and 21st Streets, and the township has been closed on a recent shooting affair there.

One of the biggest union get-together social sessions and smokers ever held in Richmond was that of the pipe-fitters local union last evening upon the occasion of the installation of new officers.

Others who attended were John R. Cleary, president, O. P. Lilly, secretary, H. A. Grover, recording secretary, John Roder, sentry, Phillip A. Lee steward.
